

An Inspired Approach to Education for Life-Long Learning

Waldorf schools offer a developmentally appropriate, experiential approach to education. They integrate the arts and academics for children from preschool through twelfth grade. The aim of the education is to inspire life-long learning in all students and enable them to fully develop their capacities.

Founded in Germany in the early 20th century, Waldorf EducationSM is an independent and inclusive form of education based on the insights and teaching of the renowned anthroposophist, artist and scientist, Rudolf Steiner. Evolving from a profound understanding of the human spirit and human development, Waldorf Education is regionally adaptive and has grown to include hundreds of schools worldwide.

what do we promise?

I n s p i r e d L e a r n i n g SM

what makes us different?

Experiential Learning

Activates the senses and creates deeper learning using the visual, textural and performing arts.

Collaborative Success

Fosters the spirit of teamwork and achievement between classmates.

Anthroposophy

Evolves from a profound understanding of the human spirit and human development, trusting the wisdom of the human being.

Relationship Building

Nurtures a sense of connection, support and responsibility within the community.

what are the benefits?

Prepares for a Changing World

We provide skills for life including self-discipline, independence, mastery of analytical and critical thinking, and reverence and wonder for the world's beauty.

Cultivates Freedom to Act and Think

We develop one's ability to think and act freely.

Ignites Life-Long Learning

We nurture the connection between the child, the physical earth and others around them through experiential learning.

Uses Developmental Approach

We focus on each student's developmental needs and capacities through the stages of growth.

For more information about "what makes Waldorf Education different?" and "what are the benefits?", please visit the 'Why Waldorf Works' website at www.whywaldorfworks.org where the guidelines are posted or check with your school.